MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA/ Tuesday 3 March, 2026 – AGENXY UNIVERSE has announced Australian DJ and producer Tobiahs will headline its exclusive Formula 1 afterparty at Bond Melbourne on the opening night of the 2026 Melbourne Grand Prix weekend, bringing the brand's signature race-weekend energy from Monaco to Melbourne.

Timed to mark the opening of the 2026 Formula 1 season, the strictly private event positions itself as the cultural starting point of Grand Prix weekend, bringing AGENXY UNIVERSE's Monaco-honed formula of motorsport, music and fashion to Melbourne, the city that sets the global tone for the season ahead.

The Bond Melbourne takeover will feature Australian DJ and producer Tobiahs, whose internationally recognised electronic sound and major club and festival appearances anchor the night's music direction, alongside a special guest appearance by television personality Amanza Smith, adding international visibility to an event already drawing attention from Melbourne's social and creative circles.

AGENXY UNIVERSE frames the evening as a curated gathering, bringing together tastemakers, industry figures, visiting VIPs and members of Melbourne's nightlife and fashion communities at one of the city's most culturally charged moments of the year, Grand Prix weekend, where sport extends beyond the track into hospitality, fashion and late-night experiences, with the brand deliberately shaping that conversation from the outset.

This is not a public ticketed party. It is an invitation-only launch of race weekend.

Opening Night: Friday 6 March 2026 (Guest list enquiries: connect@agenxyuniverse.com)

Doors Open: 10:00PM

Location: Bond Melbourne, Melbourne VIC Australia
