Melbourne, Australia – March 26, 2026 – Acclaimed Australian R&B and soul artist Cisco Tavares will take the stage at Birds Basement Melbourne for the first time with a special live performance, Stevie Wonder Re-envisioned.

This unique show celebrates 55 years of Stevie Wonder’s iconic music, alongside marking three months since Cisco launched his powerful reinterpretation of Stevie’s catalogue.

With nearly 25 years as a performer in Melbourne’s music scene, Cisco Tavares is known for his rich, soulful vocals and commanding live presence. Backed by his band, he will deliver a fresh take on Stevie Wonder’s timeless songs—blending familiar melodies with new grooves, deep soul, and heartfelt expression.

This performance is designed for both lifelong Stevie Wonder fans and anyone passionate about live music, offering a reimagined experience that honors the original while bringing something entirely new to the stage.

About Cisco Tavares

Francisco Amadeu Tavares (born 14 January 1980) is a commanding voice in Australian R&B and soul, known for his powerful tone, live performance excellence, and enduring contribution to the music scene. Emerging from Melbourne, Cisco quickly gained momentum through standout performances, leading to appearances at major festivals including Big Day Out, Good Vibes, and Kiss My Grass. His work has earned recognition from respected artists such as Omar and Bilal, while his recording career includes a UK chart-topping collaboration with Zillanova and national exposure on platforms like Video Hits.

More recently, Cisco continues to evolve creatively through projects such as The Steve Project and Gospel Sundays, alongside ventures like Tavares Live, Soulmatic, Le Soul, and Afrodesicia—demonstrating both versatility and a deep-rooted commitment to authentic soul music.
